Benson Blames Farm Problem On Democrats

Says Labor Had Nothing To Do With Price Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said Sunday the problem of piled-up farm surpluses and declining farm prices began with the Democrats' labor had nothing to do with it, and Stevenson well knows it.

Benson issued his statement through the Republican National Committee in reply to a Stevenson speech before the AFL-CIO convention in New York last Thursday.

Stevenson, a candidate for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination, spoke then of "what appears to be a design" of "ugly politics." He said "it started with the secretary of agriculture's attempt to blame the farmer's current depression on the city worker's wage increase."

Benson said Stevenson had "misrepresented my views." Actually, declared Benson, the farm problem "grew out of the Democrat (sic) administration's refusal to face facts. Labor had nothing to do with the origin of the farmer's troubles, as Mr. Stevenson well knows."

The GOP farm chief said past Democratic programs encouraged farmers to overproduce and "as a result of these programs, farm prices today are out of line with profits and wages. It said just that before the Farm Equipment Institute in New Orleans on Sept. 20, 1955."

In his New Orleans speech Benson said that in the preceding 4½ years "a considerable part of the increased profits that have gone to industry and the higher wages that have gone to labor have been siphoned from the economic blood stream at the expense of agriculture."

Negotiators Try Again To Settle Electric Strike

Sharon Police Set For Any Violence At Westinghouse Plant

PITTSBURGH (AP)—While negotiators made another effort here today to end the nationwide strike of 44,000 members of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers against Westinghouse Electric Corp. police in Sharon watched to prevent a possible outbreak of violence.

Police Chief William Stuart said there has been some violence in and near Sharon since a back to work movement started there last week at Westinghouse's big transformer plant. About 6,000 IUE members are on strike there.

Stuart said windows in the homes of some Westinghouse supervisors have been broken by stones as have the windows of some autos near the plant gates. He said no arrests have been made and that extra police have been assigned to the plant when shift changes normally occur. Some supervisors have been reporting daily since the union called the strike Oct. 17 as the result of a contract dispute.

As negotiators prepared to resume their talks there was no indication that either company or union had changed their demands. The union is asking a 15 cent an hour wage hike. Workers averaged $2.10 an hour before the strike. The company is offering a five-year contract which it says would provide an increase of 23½ cents per hour over that period.

Meanwhile, Local 590 of the AFL-CIO Food Employees Union here said that it probably set a precedent in collecting $1,129 for the relief of about 10,000 of the IUE strikers at the East Pittsburgh Westinghouse plant.

Lowen Succeeds Lee As CAA Administrator

Probe To Be Held On Reports Lee Was Pressured Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) today accused Secretary of Commerce Weeks of reaching for "czar-like powers" over civil aviation and announced the Senate Commerce Committee will investigate the situation next month.

One thing the committee intends to find out, Monroney said, is why Frederick B. Lee was replaced as head of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, a unit of the Commerce Department.

Lee resigned from his $15,000-a-year job Saturday. The swearing in of Charles J. Lowen Jr., now deputy CAA administrator, as his successor was set for today.

Monroney said a board inquiry will be aimed at Commerce Department aviation policies under Weeks and Lewis S. Rothschild, his undersecretary.

"In the President's illness, Weeks and Rothschild are trying to assume czar-like powers to control civil aviation," Monroney declared. "Lee was fired because he didn't knuckle under and let the Commerce Department dictate to him what should be done about civil aviation."

"This is all part of a pattern which included the blocking of the reappointment of Josh Lee as a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board, Ross Rizley (chairman) of the board soon is to be appointed a federal judge and Weeks will have another position to fill in his grab for control over aviation."

Monroney said he is convinced Lee was fired because he testified earlier this year in support of a bill authorizing a 64 million dollar federal outlay for each of the next four years to aid in airport construction. The Oklahoma said Weeks and Rothschild fought this bill "bitterly."

Monroney said Weeks and Roths-

Mollenkopf, a football end and baseball catcher at Bowling Green University of Ohio, had an outstanding high school coaching career after his graduation in 1931. He has never been head coach of a college team.

He was head coach at Waite High School in Toledo, Ohio, for 11 years before Holcomb brought him to Purdue. His Waite teams claimed the Ohio state prep championship three times.

Policeman Shot By Slayer Of 3

Barkeeper Killed Wife, Daughter, Mother

BALTIMORE (AP)—Police Lt. Joseph A. Heming, wounded by a crazed killer who had slain his own mother, wife and daughter and later committed suicide, was reported in critical condition today.

The 45-year-old policeman lay in an oxygen tent in Mercy Hospital, where doctors treated him for a chest wound inflicted by Eugene McNeal, East Baltimore tavern barkeeper who ran amok in his place Saturday.

Heming was felled by a bullet as he checked the darkened, locked tavern. There was another shot, then stillness.

Fellow officers, breaking in through a side door, found McNeal on the floor, dead from a bullet wound in the head. His wife Madeleine, 37, was sprawled in the kitchen. She had been shot to death, then decapitated with a Boy Scout ax.

Daughter Slain

On a couch was the bullet-pierced body of his 3-year-old daughter Lydia, two dolls cradled in her left arm.

In an upstairs bedroom, also shot to death, was Mrs. Mary McNeal, about 80, his mother.

Lt. Edwin E. Taylor said the motive apparently lay in a broken marriage. Neighbors told police McNeal had beaten his wife several times and she recently threatened to leave him.

Visited Brother-In-Law

Investigators said McNeal killed his three victims about 7 a. m., then visited the home of his brother-in-law, Patrolman Edward Welsh, a policeman on night duty.

Mrs. Welsh said McNeal told her he had "done a horrible thing."

Welsh went to the tavern Saturday evening, found it closed and called Heming and other police. Heming was hit moments later by a bullet which shattered the plate glass tavern window.

Explosion Badly Damages Car Of President Of IUE Local

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An explosion today badly damaged the car of President Charles Clark of Local 746, International Union of Electrical Workers. The union struck the Westinghouse plant here Oct. 17. No one was reported injured.

Sheriff Ralph Paul said the explosion occurred while the car was parked in front of union headquarters on Harding Dr. Most of the union officials had left the premises to attend a mass meeting of the local today at a drive-in auto theater.

Sheriff Paul said he was "too busy" to give a full report on the incident. He confirmed the bombing of the car and said, "Things are happening fast." He did not elaborate.

A union spokesman said the "inside of the car was torn out." It was a 1953 model station wagon, apparently left at union headquarters while Clark rode to the meeting with other union officials.

The car bombing was the latest development in the strike situation here, intensified by a back-to-work movement which started last Monday. This move spread to

Irondale Girl, 3, Hurt In Road Mishap

Three traffic accidents, in one of which an Irondale girl was slightly injured, were investigated by state highway patrolmen over the weekend.

In a mishap occurring on Rt. 644, three miles north of Salineville, at 11:45 a.m. Saturday, a northbound truck operated by John Burkey Jr., 30, of North Lima and a car driven by Homer Todd, 55, of Hammondsville sideswiped when Burkey attempted to pass.

Marsha Sprouse, 3, of Irondale, a passenger in the Todd car, sustained injuries to the head. The girl was to be treated by a family physician. Minor damages were caused to both vehicles, patrolmen said.

Another sideswiping occurred at 11:45 a.m. Sunday on the Bayard Road, two miles east of Minerva.

According to patrolmen, a northbound car operated by James Jordan, 18, of RD 2, Minerva, and a southbound auto driven by Raymond Miller, 43, of RD 3, Minerva sideswiped on a curve causing minor damages to both cars.

In another accident, on the Kent Road, one and one-half miles northwest of Salem, at 4 p.m. Sunday, James Seerest, 17, of 1733 N. Ellsworth Ave., Salem, lost control of his southbound car, causing it to go off the left side of the road, hit a tree and turn over.

The car was badly damaged, patrolmen said. Seerest was cited to juvenile court for improper driving.

Four Attackers Slain In Fight On Sea Of Galilee

Israel Reports 29 Syrian Soldiers Taken Prisoner

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israeli troops attacked Syrian outposts overlooking the Sea of Galilee during the night, killing 55 Syrian soldiers for the loss of 4 Israelis, officials said today.

Israeli sources said 29 Syrians were taken prisoner in the fog-shrouded battle on the northeast shores of the lake where many events in the life of Jesus Christ took place.

Twelve Israeli soldiers were wounded.

The attackers occupied four Syrian outposts, blew them up and then withdrew. The action was launched on an eight-mile front Sunday night to silence gun positions Israel claimed fired on fishing boats and an Israeli police launch Sunday. No one was hurt in that incident.

4-Pronged Advance

Israeli military sources said army units moved in a four-pronged advance aimed at four Syrian positions along the eastern bank of the Sea of Galilee the positions were in the Kursi Naqurat and Beth Habeq sectors and in the sector where the Jordan flows into the Sea of Galilee.

The river leaves the sea again to the south to continue its way toward the Dead Sea.

The attacking Israeli units were supported by two detachments to block the approach of Syrian reinforcements.

Military sources said the Syrian opposition was heaviest in the Jordan River sector.

U.N. truce observers rushed to the area to investigate at the first word of the Israeli attack. A U.N. spokesman said the situation in the area was quiet now.

Claims Sea of Galilee

Israel claims her territory includes the entire Sea of Galilee, a lake about 13 miles long and 3 to 7 miles wide along whose shores many of the events in the life of Jesus Christ took place. Syria holds the northern half of the lake's eastern shore. A narrow strip along the southern half is held by Israel. The Israeli attack took place along this eight-mile northern stretch.

There was no immediate comment from Damascus, the Syrian capital. The government there was expected to file a strong protest with the U.N. truce supervisory commission.

Ohio Actor Dies In Cleveland

Massillon Native
Played 400 Roles

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rolf Englehardt, 53, an actor who grew up in Massillon and played more than 400 roles for the Cleveland Play House, died of cancer Saturday at his home in East Cleveland.

Englehardt joined the Play House Company as an apprentice in 1927. No other actor in the company has played as many roles, and only one—actor-director K. Elmo Lowe, has played over a longer period of time.

A graduate of Massillon High School, Englehardt got the stage bug early and used to study his lines while working in a Massillon shoe store.

In 1922 he appeared in a Massillon community theater production of "Belinda."

After receiving a bachelor of arts degree from Ohio Wesleyan in 1927, he enrolled in the Western Reserve University School of Medicine here. On the day he was supposed to start in medical school, however, he got off a trolley car at East 86th Street and enrolled as an apprentice at the Play House. After two years as an apprentice, he joined the regular company.

His first role for the Play House was in Galsworthy's "Skin Game" and his last was in May when he played "Hamlet."

Englehardt also did summer work in New London, Conn., and appeared in two New York productions — "Squaring the Circle" and "After Paris."

His real name was Ralph C., but he used Rolf as a stage name. A bachelor, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Englehardt, and a brother, Arvine, all of Massillon.

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow.

Struck Factory To Be Closed

Gro-Cord To Dispose Of Its Facilities

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — The 35-year-old Gro-Cord Rubber Co., in the midst of a 15-week strike by about 200 union employees in Lima will be disposed of, President Forest Moor says.

Moor announced his "primary effort" will be to act on the authority of the firm's board of directors, which gave him the go-ahead to sell, move, merge or liquidate the company.

Gro-Cord's second plant at Tillsborough, Ont., also will be disposed of, Moor said.

The union, meanwhile, announced its members had voted unanimously to support the union negotiating committee which has rejected company proposals.

Union spokesmen say they will not accept a contract unless the company takes back President Angelo Fedele Jr., and Vice President John S. Holland of Local 85, United Rubber Workers. They were dismissed last Thursday for "serious misconduct" on the picket lines.

The union also holds firm on demands for a two-year contract with a wage reopener at the end of the year.

The company offered a 3½-year contract—as a compromise after offering a 5-year pact—with no clause for reopening during that period.

Wages were not a major issue. Union negotiators indicated willingness to accept a nine-cent hourly wage decrease from the present $1.94 hourly average. The company said the reduction was needed to make Gro-Cord products competitive.

Some 20 salaried employees will be the only persons allowed in the

Two Robbers Get $55,000 From Jeweler

AURORA, Ill. (AP) — Two masked robbers wearing rubber gloves held a jeweler and his wife captive in their home through the night and then Sunday morning looted the jeweler's store of an estimated $55,000 in merchandise.

Police theorized that the men may have had accomplices.

Police said Joseph K. Fodor, 58, told them he closed his shop at 5:30 p.m. Saturday and he and his wife Nellie, 48, had dinner before parting, she to go home and he to visit his ailing mother in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Arriving home, Mrs. Fodor related, she was accosted by two men, one with a revolver and the other with a metal bar. Threatening her with death, they taped her wrists and demanded the keys to the store and the combination of the shop's safe.

Mrs. Fodor said she gave them the combination, which she kept in her purse, and told the pair her husband had the keys. Then, she said, they shoved her into a closet.

Fodor said he was knocked down when he entered the house at about 9:15. The robbers taped his arms and took his keys.

"They told me they had been checking on me for six months, and knew just what I had in the store," Fodor said. "One of them told me—Mr. Fodor, you should carry more insurance, then you wouldn't lose anything."

Fodor was put in a separate closet from his wife.

Fodor said there were three telephone calls early in the morning. The robbers answered them and afterwards left the house.

The Fodors freed themselves about 20 minutes later and called police.

Fodor said the men took about $55,000 worth of jewelry from the shop, $400 in cash, a diamond ring he valued at $3,000, Mrs. Fodor's ring valued at $1,500 and miscellaneous articles from his home and shop.

The result—12 flat tires and a three-hour sweeping job while traffic was detoured around the spot.

Crosby was picked up, brought back to the scene and handed a broom to help the angry motorists in the cleanup job Saturday. He then was charged with littering a public highway and having no operator's license.

OEC Council Urges Schools Set Up Teacher Evaluation Plans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Educational Council of the Ohio Education Assn. (OEA) says Ohio school administrators should borrow a leaf from industry's book and develop teacher evaluation plans.

A report by the council recommending development of personnel evaluation plans like those of leading industrial and business firms is to go before the association convention here tonight. A spokesman for the OEA said the research report recommends that teachers work with local school administrators to set up the plans.

The convention will be asked to support the council's recommendations. Intended to help "improve the quality of teaching," the report was prepared by a committee headed by James A. Bright, Lima teacher.

Bright was quoted by the spokesman as saying that most effective school evaluation plans studied by his committee paralleled similar industrial and business plans which are designed to assist the employee to improve himself on the job.

Bright was quoted as saying: "Industry has made some remarkable progress in evaluation work. We found that the better school personnel evaluation plans are following the industry pattern."

The report said evaluation should be regarded as "a cooperative effort on the part of administrators, supervisors, and teachers to upgrade teaching by appraising teacher effectiveness." It compared evaluation with merit rating, which "is a comparative measurement of teaching, sometimes used for salary purposes." The former was preferred because, "if evaluation is used as a guidance procedure for the upgrading of teaching, the teacher's fear of appraisal will be lessened."

Personnel evaluation programs in schools have been handicapped, the report declared, because of a misconception of the meetings of "evaluation" and "merit rating" in the minds of educators.

State Dept.'s Press Officer Dies At 64

Moral Deterioration

By DAVID LAWRENCE

52 Nations In U. N. Ignore Court Ruling

At a time when public morals are on the decline and when "expiency" is given as an excuse for condoning immorality in the behavior of governments, it is a shocking thing to see delegates from 52 governments vote to ignore a decision by the Court of International Justice which brands as illegal any "package deal" for the admission of members to the United Nations.

Only the United States, Belgium, France, Greece and Israel refused to participate in the voting on a resolution which asked the Security Council of the United Nations to "consider" the application of 18 nations as a package. Cuba and Nationalist China voted against the resolution itself.

The position, however, of the five who abstained means that they refuse even to agree that such a proposal should be voted upon in the General Assembly.

IT WAS ON MAY 28, 1948, that the International Court of Justice, sitting at The Hague, handed down an advisory opinion—requested by the U.N. General Assembly—and ruled that it is illegal for a U.N. member to make its consent for the admission of one applicant dependent on the admission of another and that "considerations other, than those prescribed by the terms and spirit of Article IV of the U.N. Charter" could not prevent the admission of an applicant. The ruling said:

"The provisions of Article IV necessarily imply that every application for admission should be examined and voted on separately and on its own merits. Otherwise it would be impossible to determine whether a particular applicant fulfills the necessary conditions. To subject an affirmative vote for the admission of an applicant state to the condition that other states be admitted with that state would prevent members from exercising their judgment in each case with complete liberty. Within the scope of the prescribed conditions, such a demand is incompatible with the letter and spirit of Article IV of the Charter."

How to carry out this decision presents a problem in procedure. The United States has never used and will not use its veto power in the Security Council to bar any applications for membership. The Soviet Union has threatened to use its veto power unless the entire group of 18 applicants are admitted.

THE POSITION of the United States is that the matter of admission should be left to a majority vote of the Security Council.

Since here is apparently an assured majority in the Security Council for the so-called "package deal," the United States will abstain from voting and will explain publicly its viewpoint, which is one of opposition to the admission of the five satellite countries—Albania, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Outer Mongolia.

None of these five countries possesses sovereignty, and each is under the yoke of the Soviet Union. The United States government feels, moreover, that Romania, Bulgaria, and Hungary have been found guilty of violating their treaty obligations and that, therefore, none of them can be accepted as a "peace-loving" government under the definition laid down in the United Nations Charter.

The resolution adopted by the General Assembly by a vote of 52 to 2, with five countries abstaining, does not actually request approval of the applications but merely "consideration" by the Security Council of the United Nations.

NOTWITHSTANDING this wording, the American legal advisers thought it best for the United States to preserve its record of nonparticipation in any respect whatsoever even to the point of refusing to concede that a resolution should be formally considered which asks, in effect, that a decision by the Court of International Justice be ignored.

It is true that almost all of the 52 nations feel kindly toward the 13 applicants who have hitherto been barred by the Soviet veto and that the "package deal" is the only chance to get them into the U.N., although it means paying the price of admitting the five Soviet satellites.

MOSCOW HAS MADE it clear that, unless the five satellites are admitted, the other 13 non-communist applicants would be vetoed.

The whole thing is an example of how the propaganda of "co-existence" has infiltrated the world to the point where the terms laid down by gangster governments unfortunately are accepted as a "practical" deal by supposedly idealistic and moral governments.

Back To Glory

By TRUMAN TWILL

Some of my best friends are mailmen, so it makes me happy to know something is going to be done about their uniforms.

I am not foolish enough to think they are going to be happy about this, because mailmen and the U.S. postal system in general are firmly set in their ways. No one expects them to be any other way. Addition to routine is the secret of getting the right envelopes into the right mail boxes.

So mailmen will not leap with joy because their blue-gray uniforms are going to be set off with maroon trim and ties. Instead of black, and because their shirts henceforth will be blue instead of gray. They will be pretty put out by this mild switchover to decorative colors.

But whether or not they face up to it, mailmen have been made to look shabby by comparison with bakery-wagon drivers, milk carriers, bus drivers, big-city doormen, elevator operators and even the better class of truck drivers. They have taken a back seat for policemen, highway patrolmen and toll-road operatives.

They were not in the running with other uniformed employees of the U. S. government—soldiers, sailors, marines, customs and immigration officials, aviators and special guards. They had become the country cousins of all the uniformed services, both private and public.

As long as something was going to be done about their blue-gray obscurity, it is too bad the Post Office Department didn't go the whole hog. One of my mailman friends was rattling off a complaint the other day.

His problem, he explained, was underwear. If he wore longies to keep warm on his appointed rounds, he oozed at every pore while he was in the postoffice sorting mail. If he dressed for inside work, he froze like an Eskimo pie before he got to the most distant delivery stop on his rounds.

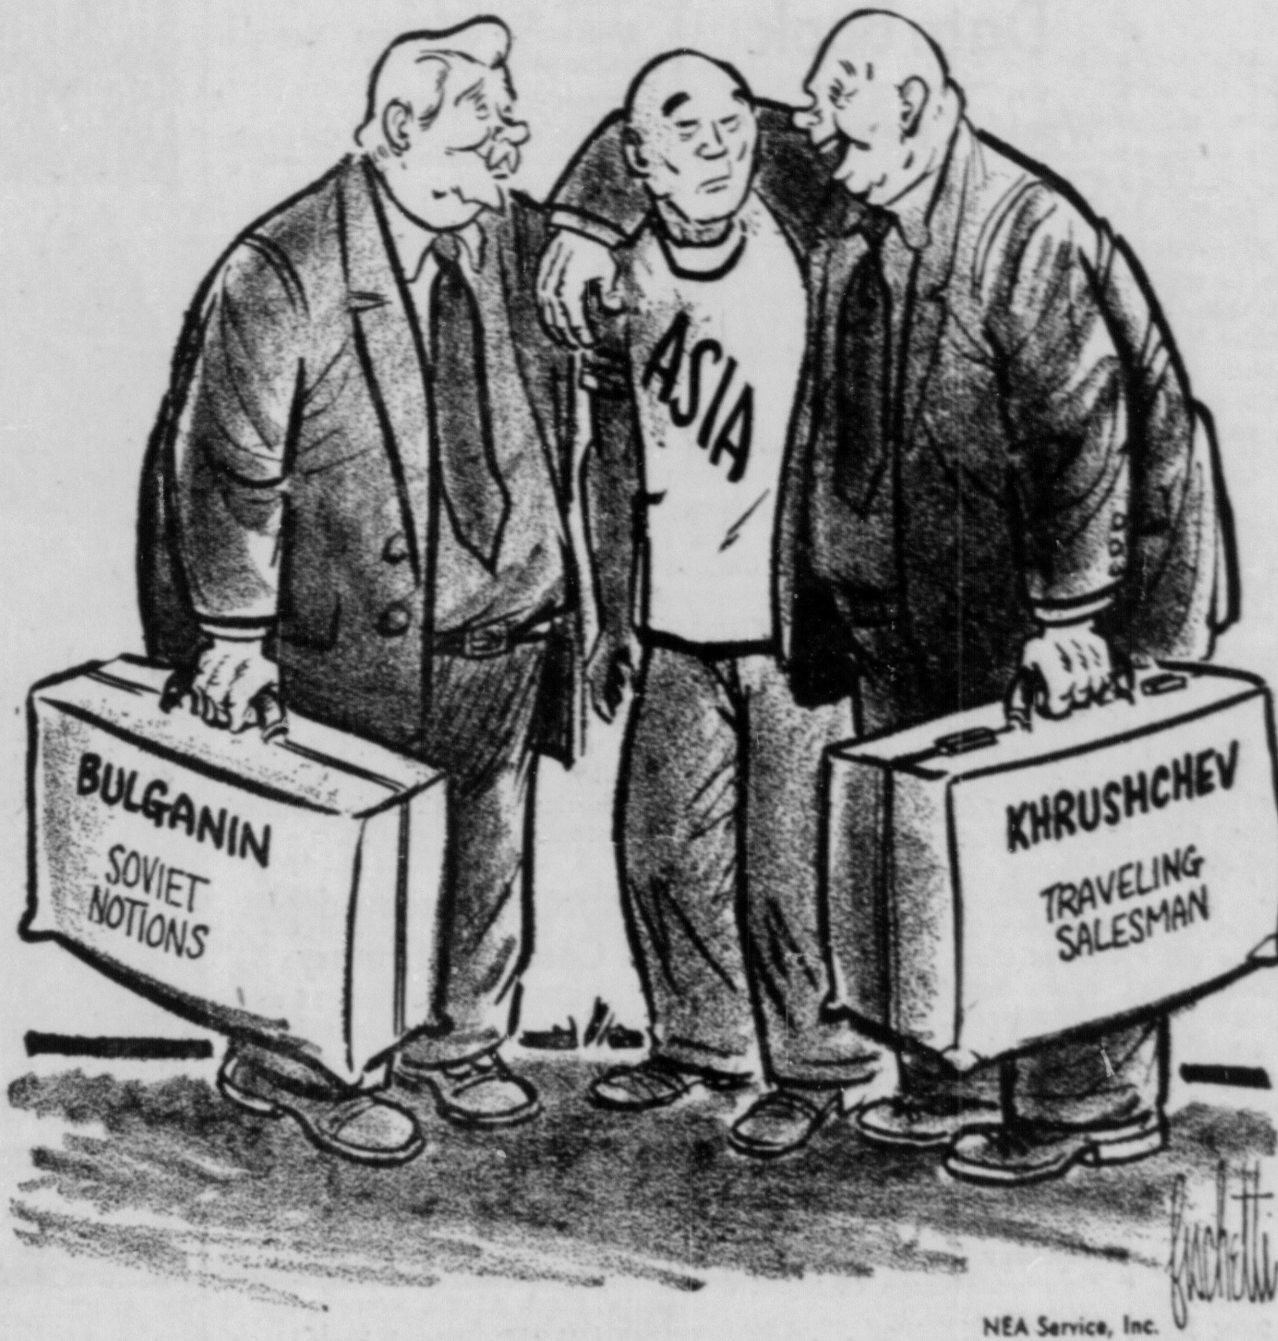

What he needed, he wisecracked, was a thermostatically-controlled outfit that would keep him at a steady temperature and that is what they should have provided while changing the mailman motif.

Student Revolt

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Racial relations are vexed throughout the world, particularly where racial or religious groups live in close proximity. Then barriers are set up to prevent intermarriage. This is as true of the caste system in India as among the numerous races that compose that population of the United States.

It is as true of Northern and Southern Ireland as it is of Mississippi or Georgia.

The revolt of the students of Georgia Tech is significant because these students took the position that a game arranged should proceed according to schedule regardless of special political circumstances that may prevail temporarily.

THE GOVERNOR of Georgia had intervened in the affairs of the students because a Negro was on the opposite team. The students rejected his right to decide for them with whom they should play.

It is not inherent in the attitude of these students that they will vote against segregation, that they will vote Republican or that they will vote for Walter George against Herman Talmadge.

What, in effect, they said was that they want to play football, that they want to play Pittsburgh, that Pittsburgh has the right to select its own team and that this is sports not politics.

The students won the day and everyone seemed satisfied except those politicians who lost face. This does not mean that the Negro problem is solved in Georgia or anywhere else, or that anyone has yet come up with an easy solution.

THERE ARE NO EASY solutions for difficult racial problems, which involve marriages among persons of differing races, religions and nationalities. While there are plenty of exceptions to all rules, most parents are opposed to intermarriage and take whatever steps they can to guide their children into marriages within the narrow margins of their own kind. Furthermore, a ruling class will take whatever steps are possible to prevent a minority or newcomers from being masters even when the latter may have become a numerical majority.

History is replete with examples of the correctness of this view. Student demonstrations, whenever they occur, are an index to the basic thinking of a community. When they are spontaneous, they reflect a mass weariness of the attitudes of those in power. Even if fomented from outside, they cannot occur unless the time is ripe for them to occur.

I HAVE WITNESSED student demonstrations in China and Japan which actually changed the history of the world. Against them, armies were of no avail because the soldiers would not kill their own kind, preferring to join them.

I don't recall a single spontaneous student demonstration that failed to be effective, not because the students were numerous or powerful, but because the students' ideas mirrored table conversation at home, the talk of boy and girl, the jam sessions in dormitories.

From this experience, it would appear to me that the younger people are fed up with the incessant emphasis on the race problem and find football a more serious subject. During visits to colleges in recent years, I found students more interested in such emotional subjects as religion rather than politics.

DURING THE PAST several years, I have sat with thousands of students who preferred to debate the relative merits of Bach and Dixieland Jazz.

What seems primary to one generation looks like small talk to another. If you want to test this, get into a debate with a group of college freshmen or high school seniors on the great subjects of private enterprise and public power. Usually the debate will end in a broader discussion on how the oldsters messed up the lives of their own children by their violent emotionalism over trivialities.

Religious differences are being battered down generally and the more we go to war the faster racial differences seem unimportant because while the life you save may be your own, the fellow who helps to save it may be a socially unrecognized helot of another race.

THOSE WHO BELIEVE in racial purity should not go to war assisted by those whom they dislike. I learned that in Great Britain, last spring, when oldsters were complaining about their colored problem, which, I understand, also has developed into something among the Nordics of Germany.

Too many of the herrenvolk are giving birth to colored children. The consequences of the Georgia Tech demonstration need to be studied sociologically.

Try A Book

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — When your television set goes blooey, what do you do while you're waiting for the repair man to come and fix it?

Do you get cross and upset? Do you fuss and fume over the wasted hours — precious hours you watch spending deep in a coma watching your favorite video shows?

Well, why not protect yourself against these tragic lulls in living? Why not buy yourself a book, and sit down and read it? What if it does make your lips tired? You probably could use a little more exercise.

Now don't say, "I've already got a book." Every home that yearns for a two-car garage ought to have room for two books, too. You can find space for the extra one somewhere.

As a matter of fact, why not really surprise a friend this year and send him a book for a Christmas present? He'll talk about it for days and days.

To help you pick the right one, we have made up a list of suggested Christmas books for folks you've heard about. And so, kiddies, here we go — all in fun:

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Letter For Special Delivery

Messrs. Rodgers & Hammerstein: When you do a musical it ceases to be just an amusement page matter and becomes news. Even folks who never get to Broadway are interested. And the fact your latest one, "Pipe Dream," isn't in the same alley as your other musicals makes the interest deeper. No June flowers bustin' out all over... no waving cornfields... no cowboys... no heroic planters, no Balinese gals and no Siamese king! You have scrapped the Pacific Isles and the prairies for Cannery Row, an extra raffish area. You have made the jump from "The Surrey With the Fringe on Top" to "The Flophouse With the Binge on Top and Bottom." But you have dared again to be original.

IN MY BOOK YOU ARE classified not only as showmen but as master magicians. Who else could take a wacky, skid-row collection of hobos, misfits, alcoholics, ladies of the evening, madams and beachcombers, toss in some lovely melodies, stir rapidly and come up with no little charm and entertainment?

I kept thinking of Oklahoma and South Pacific, of course, and looking for a song like "There Is Nothing Like an Abandoned Boiler." "Oh, What a Beautiful Cannery" or "Some Enchanted Skid-Row." Or maybe "I'm in Love With a Wonderful Chemist" or "People Will Say We're in Deadfalls."

The temptation must have hit you, but you came through with some wonderful new songs entirely different, and I was sufficiently under the o'd Rodgers and Hammerstein spell most of the time to imagine Helen Traubel suddenly coming on as Sunbonnet Sue with a musical tribute to the American West and the horse-and-buggy. The grand opera Wagnerian wonder wasn't easy to think of as a bordello operator, but there again it was a novelty.

Brother, what a hop "Pipe Dream" is from the Oklahoma farmlands and Ball Ha' to the Bear Flag Bar and Sonny Boy's Pier Restaurant. No other two showman would have had the courage to try it. Well, I had fun.

You are a couple of miracle workers. But I hope there is no truth in the rumor you may "Andersonville" a musical of Dostoevsky's.

"Crime and Punishment," Acheson's "A Democrat Looks at His Party," "The Dead Sea Scrolls," Harry Truman's "Years of Decision," "Spider, Egg and Microcosm" or "To Hell and Back." You've proved your point.

As ever

Elmer.

WITH "LADY GODIVA" in the famed vaudeville theater in New York, Godiva's horse can now boast, "I once played the Palace."—Maurice O'Hare does the lady, but her golden tresses are so long and thick that as she rides through the streets the audience assumes she is joining the Adm. Byrd expedition.

William Zeckendorf, famed real-estate wizard who buys up city blocks at a time, has bought a big Denver TV station... This gives TV its biggest "property man." Probably wants some programs of his own, "This Is Your Sky-scraper," "Where's My Dotted Line?" "Shop-Around Zeckendorf," and "Met the Bid."

George Gobel wound up his program: "We wish to thank our sponsor for relinquishing some of his time in order to permit some entertainment."... It was only topped by Alfred Hitchcock's "I believe the commercials are getting more wonderful. Next week we will have another and, if time permits, another show."

Impelled by McGinniss' locomotive run by electronics, Elmer Twitchell is trying to develop a gadget that will get a commuter to work on time... You press a button and (1) the timetable is torn up and thrown away; (2) relations with the railroad are cut off; (3) a message is flashed to the office "Won't be in today. Have taken a job near home."

A history of motion pictures was reviewed in a paper presented by Mrs. George Emery at a meeting of the Travelers club yesterday.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO — Mrs. C. H. Betts, S. Lincoln Ave., has returned from Pittsburgh where she visited relatives.

Mrs. Lloyd Gibbons and Mrs. Walter Guthrie received prizes in bridge at a gathering of club associates at the home of Mrs. Andrew Hodge of Washington Ave.

Mrs. Mary Grubbs entertained Perpetual Chems club members at her home on Washington Ave.

FORTY YEARS AGO — Eight O'clock club members were guests at a party which E. W. Silver was host at his home on S. Lincoln Ave.

Misses Melba Strawn and Hazel Moulton were associate hostesses to the Oo-So-Ha-Ta Camp fire Girls, of which Miss Emma Pinkle is guardian.

Miss Emmaline Hanson of S. Penn St. was hostess to members of the Farther Light society of the First Baptist Church.

We always feel sorry for the fellow with a heart of gold, if his relatives find out about it.

A kiss often destroys germs, according to a doctor. Maybe it shocks 'em to death.

Police Have New Lead To Disappearance Of Cleveland Girl

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland police had a new lead today in their long quest to learn the fate of 10-year-old Beverly Potts who disappeared from Halloran Park here the night of Aug. 24, 1951.

In Los Angeles, a 44-year-old male hospital attendant told police he killed a girl here in July, 1952, and hid her body in a shallow grave he covered with dirt and brush.

Despite the difference in the date, there were enough similarities in the story the attendant told and the circumstances of Beverly's disappearance to warrant investigation here.

"I want to get it off my mind and pay for my crime," Los Angeles police quoted the attendant as saying yesterday after his arrest on a drunk charge in a skid row section. The attendant — Harvey Lee Rush, also known as Henry Rushkowsky — was booked in Los Angeles on suspicion of murder.

Los Angeles police said Rush told this story in a three-page statement:

He picked up the girl near a "circus" and took her under a bridge. She began to scream and he slugged her with his fists until she was dead, then buried her in a grave he dug with his hands. After that he got scared, went to Wilkes Barre, Pa., New Orleans and finally to Los Angeles where he had been working as a hospital attendant.

Rush's statement gave the grave location as under the "Rocky River Drive Bridge at W. 117th Street and Madison Avenue." There are several bridges over the Rocky River, but all are several miles west of the location Rush listed.

The night she disappeared, Beverly had gone to Halloran Park on Cleveland's West Side to enjoy a carnival. A girl who accompanied her returned home alone, and Beverly never was seen again.

Cleveland police had a Harvey Rush, 48, in their records. That Rush was last arrested here last March for intoxication. The records also show intoxication arrests in August and September of 1951.

Coed Says She Won't See Prince On Visit To U.S.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—A pretty University of Illinois coed who once traveled to Monaco to meet that European principality's handsome ruler says she won't see him when he visits the United States.

Prince Ranier III, 32-year-old bachelor, left for America yesterday aboard the liner United States. His subjects hope he will find a wife since Monaco will come under French rule and French taxes if he doesn't have an heir.

Jo Ann Stork, 21, flew to Monaco last February expressly to meet the prince.

"I've had only one letter from the prince since my return to the United States," she said, "and that was a note saying that he had enjoyed receiving me in his palace. "Prince Ranier is a very charming man but there definitely are no romantic links between us."

Miss Marjorie Faye Willis Wed To Julius Arthur Kanton

The First Christian Church was the scene of the wedding uniting in marriage Miss Marjorie Faye Willis and Julius Arthur Kanton Saturday afternoon. Rev. H. L. Miller of Milan, a friend of the bride and her family, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Arthur Willis of 614 E. Perry St. S-Sgt. Kanton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Adolph Kanton of Englewood, N. J., and Delray Beach, Fla.

Palms and twin vases of carnations and mums decorated the altar, and tapers in four candelabra lighted the setting. Ivory bows marked the family pews, and an ivory candle entwined with ivy was in each window.

The soloist, Miss Elizabeth Dales of Salem, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Ruth Berry presided at the organ for the nuptial melodies and the Lord's Prayer.

Gowned in Belgian lace and yarn-dyed taffeta in an antique ivory shade, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Her fitted bodice of lace was styled with a deep portrait neckline edged in tiny scallops, and the long sleeves were pointed at the wrists. Taffeta fashioned the skirt designed with a double butterfly bustle which extended into a full cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a pillbox of lace trimmed with iridescent and pearls in matching antique ivory. Her only jewelry was a diamond pendant, which belonged to her paternal grandmother. She carried a cascade of ivory tinted carnations showered with ivy and centered with a white orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Lloyd Coombes of Terre Haute, Ind. The bridesmaids were Mrs. John Emerick Jr. of Columbus and a cousin, Miss Ruth Willis of Alliance.

The attendants wore ballerina length gowns styled alike, of royal blue yarn-dyed taffeta. The gowns were designed with square necklines, cap sleeves and skirts fitted at the hips with fullness in the back. Large butterfly puffs at the side, were carried to the hemline. They wore matching veiled headbands and carried cascade bouquets of ivory tinted carnations, ivy and huckleberry with matching ribbons.

Mrs. Julius Arthur Kanton

The bridegroom's father served as his best man. Ushers were John Emerick Jr. of Columbus and the bridegroom's brother-in-law, William Folley of Midland Park, N.J.

The bride's mother was attired in a Dior blue ribbed sheer jacket dress with matching hat. The bridegroom's mother wore beige with winter white hat. Both complemented their ensembles with white orchids.

A reception for 200 guests from Salem, Alliance, Sebring, Minerva, Canton, Warren, Youngstown, Sandusky, Columbus, Midland Park, N. J., Washington, D. C. and Detroit Mich. was held in the church parlor.

The four-tiered wedding cake, topped with a bride and bridegroom figurine, was cut by Mrs. Daniel Englert of Salem, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. William Folley of Midland Park, N. J. Hostesses were Miss Helen Throp, Miss Claribel Bickel, Mrs. Frank Tarr, Mrs. J. Robert Miller, Mrs. Joseph Yost Jr., Mrs. Gene Mariotti of Sandusky, and Mrs. Joseph Six of Columbus. Mrs. Ethel Buehler had charge of the guest book.

The bride was graduated from Salem High School, where she served as secretary to the principal before moving to Columbus two years ago. She is now secretary-receptionist at the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health Association in Columbus.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Dwight Morrow High School, Englewood, N. J., is a career man in the United States Air Force, stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, assigned to Strategic Air Command.

The couple will make their home at 1106 Sells Ave., Columbus 12, Ohio, after a weekend honeymoon trip. Later in the winter they will go to Florida to visit the bridegroom's parents.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Kanton wore a black knit dress with black caracul fur cape and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Most properly the leaders of American labor passed the resolutions denouncing corrupt and unethical practices and applauded denunciations of world C o m m u n i s m during the third day of their new era. But not one voice sounded in protest against those in the newly merged AFL-CIO who are corrupt and subversive and are growing in power as the labor federation becomes older by the hour.

Victor Riesel

Instead, the word came, not more than a few minutes after the passage of these resolutions and a speech by a world fighter against Communism, that the first merger of an AFL and a CIO union to take place after the top merger of the national headquarters had occurred at 5 a. m. of the morning of Wednesday, Dec. 7.

The AFL's Meatcutters Union had merged with the CIO's Packinghouse Workers Union.

THIS MEANT THAT the Packinghouse Workers had been accepted despite the fact that there has been testimony before a congressional committee charging one of its biggest units with being heavily Communist infiltrated.

This congressional testimony stated that the Packinghouse Workers' Local 347 of 6,000 members right in the heart of America's food industry — in the Chicago Armour plant — was run by three Communist cells. These cell members met every day and "kept on top of things."

This local operates right in Chicago, not too many streets from the international headquarters of the Packinghouse Workers. The international headquarters knew of this testimony and of the local's pickets who had besieged a congressional hearing on communism in Chicago.

YET THIS INTERNATIONAL union merges with a large AFL union, making it some 500,000 strong, one of the biggest in the AFL, and no one protests or asks for a house-cleaning.

Nor has anyone protested against a section of the Teamsters Union which has joined forces with the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers — a union even now before the Subversive Activities Control Board under charges of being Communist dominated. If the Justice Department proves its charges, the Mine, Mill will be dissolved.

We need not wait for the end of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' case. There are congressional committee records which show that under oath the union's attorney, Nat Witt refused to deny knowledge of espionage against the U.S.

Still the Western Conference of Teamsters signs a mutual assistance pact with the Mine - Mill crowd — and no one among the new AFL - CIO's 1500 delegates takes the floor to denounce the pact.

WE ARE ABLE to report that among the resolutions, which always flood the final days of a labor convention, there is the one on ethical practices which called on the membership:

"To take whatever steps are necessary within their own organizations to affect the policies and ethical standards set forth ... in the AFL-CIO constitution."

Hail and bravo! But down in the cellar press room, at the very moment the convention unanimously endorsed this ethical practice dictum, men in overalls moved amongst the press tables. They were rank and file members of Local 138 of the Operating Engineers Union.

THEY HAD TAKEN time out of their jobs — which means money from the kitchen budget—to come with copies of a telegram they had sent to George Meany and Walter Reuther. They were asking help in rooting out practices in their local, which after all, along with 69,999 other such locals are the grass roots of American labor.

TO HEAD ICC. — Anthony P. Arpaia (above) will become chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission Jan. 1, it was announced in Washington. The chairmanship rotates among members of the Commission. Arpaia is a Democrat from New Haven, Conn.

The telegram said: "One example of our position: The estimated income of the treasury of Local 138 from dues alone is approximately $140,000 per annum. There has been no written financial report in this local for over 15 years. Situation is desperate. Wire answer collect. Reform Group of Local 138."

Hiding in a midtown hotel is another operating engineer who seeks justice. He is Fred Welling, the one who was kicked in the stomach at a meeting of the Operating Engineers national board, when he came to complain to them recently in Washington about conditions in West Virginia. There were other supplicants, who believe the grass roots should not be trodden down. They sought a friendly voice. Will they find one?

17 Die In Ohio Traffic Mishaps

10-Day Safe-Driving Period Ends Sadly

By The Associated Press
Ohio—Its Safe-Driving Day record already a dismal failure—this weekend wound up the 10-day safe-driving period following S-D Day on an equally sad note.

On Thursday, Dec. 1, the state was among the nation's leaders with eight traffic deaths. During the weekend period 6 p.m. Friday to Sunday midnight 17 persons were killed on state roads.

The National Safety Council had asked motorists to be especially cautious on Dec. 1 and during the 10-day period immediately preceding and following it.

A train-car collision in Lima Saturday killed two persons.

An Indiana pastor and his wife died in a head-on collision of two automobiles north of Celina yesterday.

A 16-year-old Lorain boy was shot accidentally by his 12-year-old brother Saturday.

Fumes from a gas heater killed a man and a woman yesterday in Cincinnati.

The list of fatalities:
Friday night:
P. E. Roberts, 63, Amanda, struck by a car while walking on U.S. 22 about 10 miles southwest of Lancaster.

Saturday:
Lonzo T. Reed, 50, Dayton, in a two-car accident on Ohio 201 northeast of Dayton.

Mrs. Virginia Powell, 37, Batavia, when the car in which she was riding left Ohio 125 and struck a pole in Clermont County.

Glenn Smith, 16, Lorain, when a deer rifle held by his 12-year-old brother discharged accidentally at their home.

Christine Harris, 3, Cincinnati, struck by a car when crossing a city street with her father while they were Christmas shopping.

Mrs. Olive M. Kohl, 38, Lima, in a two-car collision on Ohio 117, just north of Roundhead.

Edith Marie Lape, 36, and Willie Soto, both of Lima, in a train-car accident at the S. Main St. crossing in Lima.

Charles Steward, 30, Mansfield, when a train ramed a car at an Erie Railroad crossing on Ohio 603, five and a half miles south of Ashland.

Henry P. Smith, 67, Kingsville, when his car collided with another on U.S. 20 in North Kingsville (Ashtabula County).

Charles E. Brown, 41, of near Elyria, when the pickup truck in which he was riding collided with a car on a Lorain County road.

Sunday:
James DuBois, 22, Rt. 2, Wapakoneta, suffocated when pinned under the wreckage of his car which overturned on an Auglaize County road two miles south of Wapakoneta.

Ernest Williams, 34, Rt. 1, Eaton, when the car in which he was riding collided with another at the junction of U.S. 40 and a Preble County road five miles east of the Indiana-Ohio line.

Kenneth Elam, 54, Cincinnati, and Eliza Carter, 39, Covington, Ky., from fumes of a gas space heater in Elam's apartment.

The Rev. Sebastian Joseph Kremer 74, and his cousin, Mrs. Catherine Mary Stein, 81, both of Fort Wayne, Ind., in a head-on collision on Ohio 127, six miles north of Celina.

Mrs. Ivory Craig, 33, Exello, when her car crashed into the tree at Middletown.

Grieving Father Pleads For Safe Holiday Driving

CINCINNATI (UP) — A grieving father whose 3-year-old daughter was killed by a car while they were on a Christmas shopping trip pleaded today for safe holiday driving.

Christine Harris, 3, was hit by an automobile Saturday night when she and her father, Walter Lee Harris, attempted to cross the street.

"Christine was a beautiful girl," Harris said. "Now she is dead, just before the Christmas season, because a motorist was careless."

"I have only pity in my heart for the motorist who killed Christine. My only hope is that she did not die in vain, that drivers who read the story of how she died so young and so needlessly will resolve never to drive after drink and will be especially careful on all streets where children are likely to cross. Perhaps the life of another man's daughter may be saved in that way."

The driver of the automobile was charged with drunken driving.

Foundry Worker Held In Wife's Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP) — Rhoden Lee Williams, 29, a foundry worker, is being held by police for investigation in the slaying of his wife.

Police said Williams admitted stabbing, strangling and clubbing his wife, Joyce, 23, in their Columbus apartment Saturday following an argument.

Williams surrendered to Pickaway County authorities yesterday and was returned to Columbus.

Salem Quakers Win 1st, Defeat Youngstown Ursuline 58-42

Jack Alexander Paces Locals; Quakers Sink 42.5% Of Shots

By CARL NADRASY
The Salem Quaker cage team, off to what looks like another prosperous season, brought home victory in their initial start of the season Saturday night as they overpowered the Youngstown Ursuline Irish 58-42 before some 1,000 fans at South Fieldhouse in Youngstown.

Head Coach John Cabas' boys completely overwhelmed the Irish with their three-team depth. The Salem mentor sent in almost three completely different quintets and cleaned his bench by using all 14 players in the game.

The Cabasmen shot 42.5 per cent by making 37 of 87 attempts good. On foul shots, the locals dumped in 15 of 24 tries for a 62 per cent mark; from the field they hit on 21 of 63 shots for a 33 per cent mark.

The Salem defense looked good for a first game in holding Ursuline to a 29 per cent shooting record. The Irish hit on 15 of 60 attempts or 25 per cent from the field and 12 of 24 from the foul line for a 50 per cent mark.

Slice, Ant Hill Help Snead To Win Tourney

By MERCER BAILEY
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The unlikely combination of an ant hill and a beautifully controlled, sharply slicing two-iron shot helped record-smashing Sam Snead win his sixth Miami Open golf tournament.

The sensational, arching two-iron shot to the green saved the Slammer after he pulled his drive into the trees in a sudden death play-off with Tommy Bolt Sunday. The ant hill caused Bolt to miss the green and he wound up with a bogey while Snead got his par.

Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., veteran, and Bolt, a Texan playing out of Chattanooga, Tenn., finished in a tie for first with nine-under-par 20s at the end of the regulation 54 holes.

Each fired a six-under-par 64 in the final round and bypassed big Mike Souchack of Grossinger's, N.Y., who led them by four strokes after 36 holes.

Souchack's final 71 for a 204 total dropped him into a three-way tie for third with Frank Stanahan of Toledo and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Louis. Mo. Stranahan and Harrison shot 69s. Jay Hebert of Woodmere, N.Y., with a 70, and deadlocked for sixth with 205s.

Bears Defeat Eagles, Fail To Grab Title

By JOE MOOSHIL
CHICAGO — George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, is quitting without the championship he wanted but the pioneer of pro football is glad he's stepping out on a winning note.

The Bears did all they could in beating the Philadelphia Eagles, 17-10, but had no control over Los Angeles' 31-17 victory over the Green Bay Packers.

Obviously disappointed that his Bears failed to win the Western Division title, Halas said "I'm glad that the boys finished on a winning note."

Halas reiterated that he's going to retire now that the season is over but he refused to name his possible successor.

Halas threw his annual "alumni" party Sunday night and said he wasn't interested in talking about pro football. "The season is over and now is the time to have fun," said Halas.

Just who will succeed Halas remains a complete mystery.

"He must be a man who will devote all of his time to the team," said Halas. "This is a full time job."

Halas has indicated that he'll still be the man sitting in on player drafts and probably will run the team from behind the scenes.

Despite his numerous statements that he'll retire, it would surprise no one if Halas remained as coach of the Bears.

He had his heart set on quitting with a winner and he might just try a "comeback" next fall in hopes that his Bears will regain the league title.

There's little question that the Bears will be one of the favorites to win the title next year.

The Chicago Cardinals ended the season on a losing note by falling before Cleveland, 35-24, just when it seemed they would score their first triumph in 11 games over the Browns.

The Cardinals held a 24-14 lead after three quarters but Cleveland stormed back with 21 points in the final quarter to win going away.

Kentucky, Illini Upset Victims

DePaul Tournament Opens In Chicago

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

This will be "put up or shut up" week for many of the nation's leading college basketball teams seeking to escape the fate of high-ranking Kentucky and Illinois.

San Francisco, for one, will swing back into action Friday night after a 10-day layoff to meet a good Marquette club in the opener of the DePaul tournament in Chicago.

The Dons, defending NCAA champs and rated No. 1 in the pre-season Associated Press poll, are undefeated in three games.

The Chicago tourney is certain to prove a stiff test for the Dons. Even if they get past Marquette, it's likely the winner of the second Duquesne-DePaul tilt will be rough in the finals Saturday.

Duquesne was one of the teams which showed to good advantage over the weekend, winning the Steel Bowl title 71-49 over Pittsburgh.

North Carolina State, Utah, Alabama, Dayton and Brigham Young were among the other top ranked schools to go unscathed.

But not so for Kentucky (No. 2) and Illinois (No. 8). The Wildcats, who almost never lose at home, were surprised by Temple 73-61 while Illinois, after running up a 13-point halftime lead, bowed to Missouri 74-73.

Third-ranked N.C. State downed Eastern Kentucky 83-74 for its fourth in a row and 16th straight victory over a two-year span. Utah, No. 5, continued impressive with a 93-63 triumph over Arizona.

Alabama, rated sixth, won the Birmingham classic by overwhelming Valparaiso 82-56. Seventh-ranked Dayton tripped Toledo 62-59 and Brigham Young, No. 10, rolled over Oregon 83-52.

There might be a few surprises after tonight's action.

Fourth-ranked Iowa, the Big 10 king of last season, meets Colorado, which has looked good in victories over Oregon State and Oregon.

And Kentucky will have an opportunity to make amends against DePaul, which is 3-1 for the year.

In other important games, Louisiana State is at Rice, Oklahoma at Ohio State, SMU at Wisconsin, Tulane at Texas A&M and Oklahoma A&M at Baylor.

Tuesday night, North Carolina State takes its perfect slate against Clemson while Duquesne meets St. Francis (Pa.).

The same night, West Virginia will face George Washington in an important Southern Conference get-together and Illinois moves into the Notre Dame den.

Brandt, Moncrief Win Rifle Shoot

Raymond Brandt of Winona and Robert Moncrief of Salem tied for first place at the Salem Hunting Club's rifle shoot Sunday afternoon.

O. F. Birkhimer and James Ivan, both of Salem, were second and third respectively. A special prize went to Brandt.

In a women's match, Mrs. James Ivan topped first place, while Mrs. Robert Moncrief was second and Mrs. George Stowe third.

Dave Kirby was awarded a special prize. The monthly traveling trophy was won by Mr. and Mrs. James Ivan for having the best combined five-shot group.

The next 22 cal. rifle shoot sponsored by the club is scheduled for Jan. 8 at 1:30 p.m. There will be team matches for husbands and wives Jan. 15 and 22.

Chicago Fan Jumps Gun On Grid Title

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams had just finished roaring into the dressing room after their Western Division football title win yesterday when coach Sid Gillman held up a gold cuff link for reporters.

It was inscribed: "Chicago Bears, 1935 football champions."

Gillman said a friend in Chicago had sent it to him during the week.

"Someone back there," said Sid, "jump the gun." He's returning it, gladly.

Cage Official Gets To Game Hard Way

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Andy Bertoni of Detroit helped officiate the Western Michigan - Central Michigan basketball game but he got here the hard way.

Bertoni took a train from Detroit, 136 miles away. At Galesburg, 10 miles east of Kalamazoo, the train was involved in a crossing crash with an automobile.

Bertoni, fearing he'd miss the game, climbed out of the train and hitched a ride to the field house. He arrived just in time for the opening whistle.

Big 10 Faces Intersectional Foes Again

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten basketball teams, having trouble keeping above the 500 mark against intersectional foes, try to fatten their records tonight with Iowa and Indiana leading the way.

In 22 games against non-conference foes, Big Ten teams have won 12 and only Iowa and Indiana remain undefeated. Michigan State opens its season Tuesday.

Iowa, winning easily in its first two games, is at Colorado tonight while Indiana is home to St. Louis.

Oklahoma is at Ohio State and Southern Methodist is at Wisconsin in other games.

The defending champion Hawkeyes have beaten Nebraska and Southern Methodist with ease and hop to make Colorado victim No. 3.

Indiana, reverting to racehorse basketball now that tall Don Schlundt is gone, has scored more than 90 points in each of its two games.

The Hoosiers slammed Kansas State Saturday night, 96-72. Ohio State and Michigan will be the only other Big Ten winners Saturday as four conference teams, including highly rated Illinois, are beaten.

Robin Freeman, setting a pair of Chicago Stadium records with 43 points, led the Buckeyes to a 90-72 triumph over Loyola and Michigan beat Nebraska 77-71.

Illinois was edged by Missouri, 74-73; Notre Dame handed Northwestern its third straight defeat, 71-61; Kansas trounced Wisconsin, 74-66, in a nationally televised game, Purdue lost to UCLA, 76-60, and Southern Methodist nipped Minnesota, 82-81.

Freeman's 43 points wiped out the old mark of 41 set by Schlundt in 1933 and his 19 baskets in 34 attempts erased the old mark of 15 by DePaul's George Mikan in 1945.

While Big Ten teams were getting their lumps, three midwest independents continued on the road of victory. DePaul scored its third triumph in four games by belting Penn State 84-62. Undefeated Marquette swept past South Dakota, 84-70, and Bradley made it three straight by clobbering Texas Western, 88-65.

Freshman Practice Set

Freshmen basketball practice has been scheduled for Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Salem High School gymnasium, according to Fred Cope, athletic director.

Frosh coaching will be under the supervision of head varsity coach John Cabas and assistant coach Karl Zellers.

Browns To Play Rams Dec. 26 For Pro Football Championship

By RIF WATSON
The Associated Press

It'll be the Cleveland Browns vs. the Los Angeles Rams again for the National Football League title Dec. 26, and if past playoff records mean anything, look out, brother!

Otto Graham & Co. haven't met the Rams in a playoff in the last three years, but the Cleveland-Los Angeles battles of 1950 and 1951 had the fans gasping.

The Browns, completing their triumphant switch from the All-America Conference to the NFL, won the first time 30-25 on Lou Groza's 16-yard field goal with 28 seconds to play. The Rams evened the count the next year 24-17, with the winning touchdown a 73-yard pass play from Norm Van Brocklin to Tom Fears.

Van Brocklin was pitching at the same old stand Sunday as the Rams clinched the Western Conference title with a 31-17 victory over Green Bay. But it was a rookie, ex-Maryland star Ron Waller, who brought the cheers from the crowd of 90,535 in Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum. The crowd, incidentally, was the biggest of the professional season.

The Rams went into the game knowing they had to win, for the scoreboard showed the second place Chicago Bears had completed their season by beating Philadelphia 17-10. Waller ripped off a 55-yard touchdown run on the fourth play of the game and the Rams were never headed. He also scored two more touchdowns on short plunges.

Skeet Quinlan, another Ram veteran, got the other Los Angeles touchdown on a spectacular 55-yard punt return and Van Brocklin completed 12 of 19 passes for 148 yards.

The victory left Los Angeles with an 8-3-1 mark compared to the Chicago Bears' 8-4.

The Browns, with their sixth straight Eastern Conference title already tucked away, apparently suffered something of a letdown and had to go all out with three touchdowns in the last five minutes to down the Chicago Cardinals 35-24.

Graham, making what he said was positively his last appearance before the home folks, passed for three touchdowns. He also clinched the league passing title with an average of 9.30 yards for every pass thrown.

Another NFL star wound up his career at home, but in less successful fashion, as the New York Giants downed Detroit 24-19 despite Dock Walker's 11 points. The Lion star scored a touchdown, kicked a field goal and two conversions to win the scoring title with 96 points.

Baltimore's rookie star, Alan Ameche, was held to 29 yards as San Francisco whipped the Colts 35-24, but he wound up with the league rushing title on 961 yards.

Vic Janowicz scored 10 points to set a Washington record of 88 on the season as the Redskins wound up their best year since their 1945 championship with a 28-17 victory over Pittsburgh. The Redskins were second to Cleveland in the Eastern Conference.

Montreal's Unbeaten Streak Still Intact

By The Associated Press
Montreal's unbeaten streak in the National Hockey League still was intact today, but the New York Rangers' supremacy over the Detroit Red Wings was at an end.

The Canadiens, undefeated in their last eight games, defeated the Boston Bruins 4-2 Sunday night to stretch their lead over the second place Rangers to 10 points.

The Rangers were beaten 2-0 by the Detroit Red Wings, the Wings' first decision over New York in six games this season.

Chicago and Toronto played a 3-3 tie in the league's other contest.

Browns Come From Behind To Beat Cardinals, 35-24

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND (AP) — The game didn't mean a thing in the championship race, but Cleveland's Browns defeated the Chicago Cardinals yesterday in the season final "Just for the sheer joy of winning."

So said Coach Paul E. Brown as his stalwarts exploded for three touchdowns in the last 4 1/2 minutes to come from 10 points behind for a 35-24 victory over the Cardinals.

With the Eastern championship wrapped up a week ago, the Browns could have taken this one in stride while preparing for the Dec. 26 loop championship fray with Los Angeles.

But the Clevelanders played it to the hilt as Otto Graham, who plans to stay retired this time, was in there on offense except for the last minute and a half.

Graham had himself a day in his farewell to the home fans. Before the game he was given a silver trophy and a scholarship at Northwestern University was set up in his honor, and he responded by completing 13 of 25 passes in a snowstorm for 241 yards and three touchdowns.

In the dressing room after the game, Graham laughed when a teammate declared he should be good for another 10 years of football.

"Wish I could, but when you gotta go you gotta go," Graham replied. "And tell me, who could ask for a better way to go?"

Abe Gibron, Cleveland guard, also was singled out for a bit of homage yesterday. The Syrian and Lebanese folk of Cleveland, northern Ohio and his native Michigan City, Ind., presented him with a carload of gifts, not the least of which was a spanking new convertible.

The game, staged on a slippery field before 25,914 fans huddled in 20-degree temperature, was a thriller. With just more than a minute gone, Curly Morrison of Cleveland fumbled, and on the first Cardinal play Dave Mann romped around his left end for a 29-yard touchdown.

The Browns marched back 59 yards in six plays capped by Otto's 19-yard payoff pitch to Ray Renfro. Lou Groza booted the first of five conversions for a 7-6 Brown lead.

The Cardinals missed all four conversion attempts.

In the same session Charlie Trippi's punt was high and short, and Graham threw to Dante Lavelli for a 35-yard scoring play on second down.

Lamar McHan, Chicago quarterback who completed 12 of 25 passes for 165 yards, connected with Max Boydston for a 67-yard scoring play in the second quarter, as the Cards pulled up to a 14-12 deficit.

Midway in the third period Horace Gillom's kick soared from his own 35 to the Cardinal 20, but the Browns accepted an offside penalty and booted again. The decision was costly, for Ollie Matson picked the ball out of the air on his own 22 and streaked 78 yards for the score which put Chicago ahead 18-14.

Then Darrell Brewster fumbled and Dick Lane recovered for Chicago on the Browns' 29. McHan hit Don Stoner with 20 and 6 yard passes, the latter for a touchdown, and Chicago led 24-14 going into the final quarter.

With the session more than half gone, Chuck Noll intercepted a pass on his own 20 and raced to the 45. Graham hit Renfro with three straight passes, then sent Morrison 10 yards around end for a score, with 4:16 remaining.

After the kickoff the Brown defenders tossed the Cards for an 18-yard loss in three plays, and Trippi's punt halted on the Chicago 41. Graham tossed to Renfro on the first play. The ball, a bit short, was hit by defender Jim Hill and bounded into Renfro's arms some eight yards downfield. Renfro sauntered into the end zone with the clinching score.

With only 15 seconds remaining, after Chicago had given the ball up on downs on its own 38, half-back Bob Smith wheeled over tackle with a handoff from George Ratterman for the 31-yard touchdown run which put the game on ice.

That left the Browns with a 9-21 record for the season, the league's best offensive record with 349 points, and the best defensive record with 218.

Darrel Floyd, who averaged 35.9 points per game for Furman University last season, is back for his senior year of basketball competition in the Southern Conference.

Offer Coaches Bribes To Set Point Spread

By ORLO ROBERTSON

The Associated Press Maurice Podoloff, president of the National Basketball Assn., said today the league definitely was trying to check on a series of mysterious telephone calls in which three coaches have been offered bribes to either lose a game or control the point spread.

Al Cervi, coach of the Syracuse Nationals, and Bobby Wanzer, player-coach of the Rochester Royals, reported that they received calls from unidentified men before yesterday's games. Last week Charles Eckman of the Fort Wayne Pistons received two such telephone calls.

"We are trying to check them," said Podoloff "even though I think they are the work of crackpots. But we are stabbing in the dark since all of the calls were long distance and it was impossible to trace them."

The NBA prexy said Eckman's calls came from Minneapolis and Chicago. The call to Cervi, received by an office attendant, came from Minneapolis. Wanzer said his call was from St. Louis. All the coaches reported the incidents to the police.

"Tell Cervi to lose this game (with Boston) or not win it by more than six points," was the information relayed to the Syracuse coach. "Tell him there will be $1,000 in it for him and a couple of hundred for yourself."

Wanzer said he was told not to win the game with the St. Louis Hawks by more than seven points and "there will be $1,000 in the mail for you tomorrow."

Syracuse won its game from Boston 101-89 for its seventh straight home victory. The Royals beat the Hawks 93-91 to take over first place in the Western Division. In a only other league action Sunday Fort Wayne downed the Philadelphia Warriors 96-91.

Coaches Ask Writers To Allow 'Cooling Off'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sparky Stalcup, Missouri basketball coach, and Ray Elliot, head football coach at Illinois, say sportswriters should allow for a "cooling off" period before demanding entrance to dressing rooms.

Elliot also told coaches they should discard their "crying towels" and be as straightforward as they can with writers.

The two coaches spoke Sunday at a clinic held by the Missouri Sports Writers Assn.

Elliot declared observers must remember the game isn't played by machines, but by human beings.

Stalcup said the cooling off period is needed after games because "there are things a man can say in the heat of the moment that he'll be mighty sorry for a bit later."

Freeman Sets Scoring Mark

Tallies 43 Points As Bucks Rip Loyola

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's basketball team and its All-America record-breaker, Robin Freeman, take on twice-beaten Oklahoma tonight following a 90-72 victory over Loyola of Chicago Saturday night.

The Bucks (2-1) lost their home opener last Monday 76-67 to Vanderbilt. The Sooners fell victim to the Vandy five over the weekend, and by a similar nine-point margin, 78-69. Oklahoma has one triumph, 65-55 over Baylor.

Besides having the home court advantage, State also has the psychological edge—it blasted Oklahoma '02-84 last year, and in the Sooners' hometown of Norman.

Freeman racked up 43 points in the Bucks' Loyola victory.

Freeman's scoring—19 baskets in 34 tries and 5 of 7 free throws for good measure—not only kept Loyola on the ropes, it also broke two individual scoring records for Chicago Stadium.

Indiana's Don Schlundt, a 1955 graduate, set the previous stadium mark of 41 points on March 14, 1953, and professional great George Mikan, when he was a DePaul collegian, rang up 15 field goals for a stadium record on Dec. 15, 1945.

State led Loyola at halftime, 43-36. Freeman accounting for 11 Buck baskets. State gradually pulled away in the second half, and Robin netted eight more field goals. Freeman did not play the final two minutes.

Had Robin stayed in, he might have tapped his own individual scoring mark of 4 points. It was made against Oklahoma last year—which brings us right back to tonight.

Sandy Saddler To Box Davey Gallardo Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler of New York makes his first appearance in San Francisco tonight in a non-title 10-rounder against Davey Gallardo of Los Angeles at Civic Auditorium.

Saddler, expected to win handily, has a 137-15-2 record with more than 100 knockouts. Gallardo, former state champion, has a 55-18-3 score with 20 KO's.

Most Famous Sub Ratterman Likely Parilli Shadow In '56

CLEVELAND (NEA) — Maybe George Ratterman can play first string ball. But will anybody ever know about it?

To the football fan, Ratterman is a good substitute for Otto Graham when the game is won or the old Northwestern man isn't up to snuff. To the observant man in the stands, Ratterman is the genuflecting shadow of Paul Brown. You always see George on one knee beside the Cleveland coach.

It seemed, at the start of this season, that Ratterman — perhaps football's most famous substitute — would finally become a front-liner.

With Graham "retired," Ratterman took over the Browns. But he hardly had his pitching hand calloused when he was back beside Brown — and Graham was back running the Browns.

It seemed that for Ratterman, who has been in somebody's shadow since his undergraduate days at Notre Dame, the issue was settled. He's pass from the game without ever having really been the front man.

WHEN GRAHAM was bopped on the head in a game with the Giants, however, Ratterman hid his baby face under a helmet and dove into a game which saw the Browns trailing 14-3, and the offense not clicking.

Ratterman then showed Clevelanders — always skeptical of his talent — that he could run the club. His touchdown tossing—along with a quarterback sneak for one—beat New York.

It was just enough to leave people thinking — "the guy might be terrific if he ever gets a chance to show it."

It has been this way for a long time. At Notre Dame, it was Johnny Lujack who got the headlines—and Ratterman the reputation as a great passer who would be in there for sure if Lujack ever got hurt.

RATTERMAN WAS in long enough this season to toss 41 passes in the first eight games. He hit with 27 of them, good for 443 yards and six touchdowns.

He started every exhibition game for the Browns, but when Graham returned on Sept. 5 the opening game lineup was assured. So, on Sept. 24, when the champions of professional football took the field,

STRICTLY A STAND-IN — George Ratterman of the Browns can throw with the best, but he's normally found on the bench.

Graham, quarterback, was in the end of this season, you'd think next year would become he season he finally attains star status.

Anybody who has been around Ratterman knows the fun football fans are missing with him out of the limelight. When he's playing it's nothing extraordinary for George to acknowledge a "nice game" compliment with "I know it."

In 1947 when running the old Buffalo Bills, he stepped from the huddle on fourth down, with the ball on the opponents' five and got into punt formation. The score was 49-0 in Buffalo's favor and Ratterman proceeded to kick the ball into the stands while all concerned watched in awe.

Ratterman is 29 and with Graham almost certain to retire at the end of this season, you'd think next year would become he season he finally attains star status.

If you know Ratterman's history, however, you don't bet on it. Paul Brown, you see, is quick to point out that "Babe Parilli gets out of service soon. And he's the guy we counted on to be Otto's successor. We'll have Johnny Borton and Jim Root back, too.

Maybe George Ratterman can play first string. But maybe football's most famous substitute will never get the chance.

Wayne Bishop, freshman cross-country star, writes sports for the Daily Tar Heel, the University of North Carolina paper.

Government Help To Home Buyer Is Lively Question

NEW YORK (AP)—The still lively demand of many Americans for a new house—and how much responsibility the government has to help them get one—is one of today's hottest questions.

Builders, mortgage lenders, and government money managers are sharply divided on the causes of the current drop in the number of new homes being started — and whether the home building industry needs a new shot in the arm through easier credit and lower interest rates.

And today a leading New York bank comes out flatly against government attempts to set or enforce "arbitrary standards of housing."

The Guaranty Trust Co. in its December survey, out today, asks what is really meant by such words as "substandard" housing, "decent" housing, "adequate housing," or housing "needs."

"Obviously," says the bank, "they express someone's idea of the sort of living quarters the people ought to have. In practice, they usually express the idea or ideas arrived at by some public official or board appointed by a paternalistic government to resolve, in behalf of the people, a personal question which the people are apparently presumed to be incapable of resolving for themselves."

In a free economy, the bank holds, "adequate" housing should mean only that "quantity and quality of housing which users are able and willing to buy and pay for at free-market level of cost in view of the other possible ways of spending their money."

The bank contends that the government shouldn't tell people how many they are to be housed any more than what food to eat or what clothing to wear.

The recent decline in home building, however, has brought concern in other quarters. Builders, naturally, don't like it. Many of them blame the slowing down on the government's policy of tightening mortgage payment rules, tightening the supply of credit, and letting interest rates rise.

The Department of Commerce, on the other hand, thinks the decline will be mild. It predicts that almost as much will be spent next year as this on home building—around 16 billion dollars.

Some builders think that the cut-back will be mostly in cheaper homes, with the average house buyer spending more for a new home.

Building material prices have tended to rise of late. Cement companies are raising prices. Lumber prices have firmed, partly because snow in the Pacific Northwest has hampered logging. The National Lumber Manufacturers Assn. reports that in mid-November production fell off about 12 per cent from the rate at the first of the month.

But the federal money managers think the main reason prices tend to rise is that the construction industry is operating close to capacity.

The United States produces more than it consumes of coal, petroleum, copper, lead, and salt, but uses more of it produces of iron ore, zinc, bauxite, tin and nickel.

AN ECONOMICAL way to build — This house needs no basement. Carport creates a front patio and roof overhang protects the front door. A three-foot insulated crawl space is provided under the house. This is plan 5137AP by Edgar A. Payne, architect, 710 Wildard St., Galesburg, Ill. The house covers 1,560 square feet overall, but this includes the carport, which figures at a lower building cost than the rest of the house. The architect suggests oil-fired forced air conditioning. High ceilings are achieved by running living and dining rooms up to the roof.

Be Sure Your Storm Windows Fit Snugly

The key to good storm window performance is proper installation. When snugly fitted, storm windows provide a dead-air space which is in itself, a fairly good insulator. Two thicknesses of window glass with an air space between provide approximately 2½ times the insulation value of a single glass.

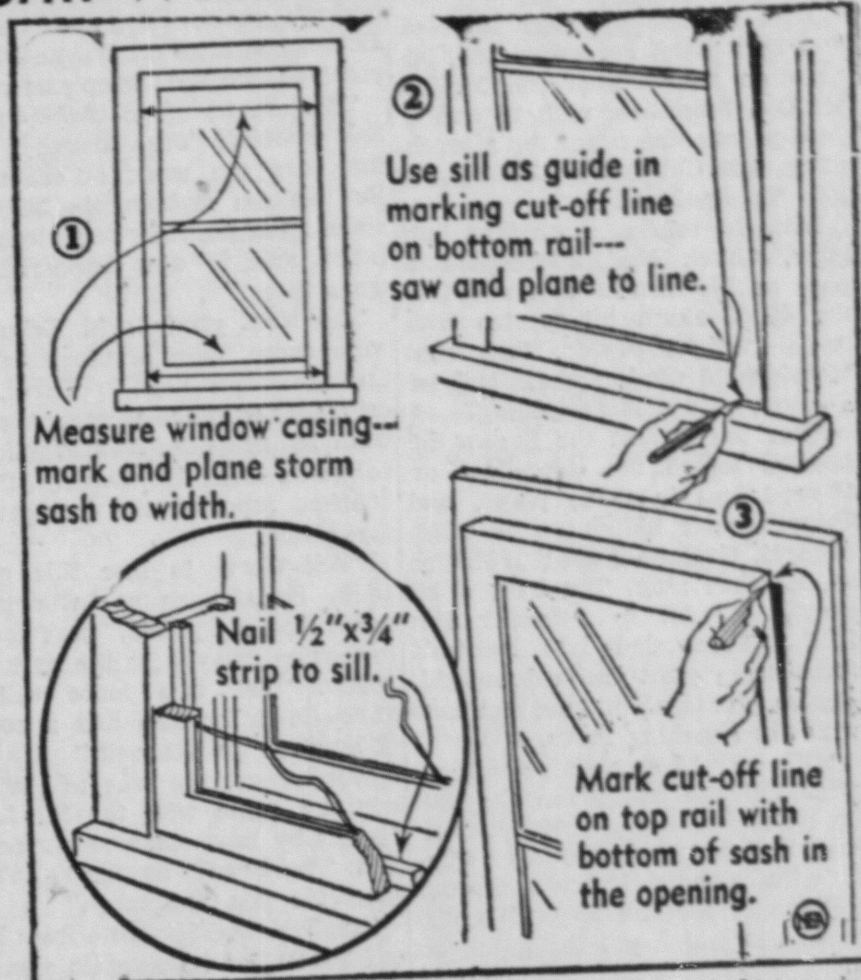

In terms of heat loss, this can represent quite a saving. But storm windows serve other purposes. They are a barrier against high winds and the infiltration of cold air (also dust and dirt) from the outside. They reduce condensation of moisture and frosting on inside window panes by protecting them from the cold outside air which causes condensation.

If you have the necessary tools, you can make your own storm window frames out of wood. Actually, though, there isn't much to be said for this practice.

Besides being punished by the weather, storm sash generally are put up and taken down each year. This is tough on them, and unless they are better built than most homemade storm windows we've seen, they won't stand up long under the beating.

Of course you can construct your own storm windows using the rolled aluminum frame sections now widely available in hardware stores. On the other hand, if you prefer wooden sash, you can buy them ready-made from lumber and building supply dealers. The wooden sash fit standard window openings and are comparatively inexpensive.

Plan your installation before

FITTING READY-MADE wooden storm sash to window casings is a fairly simple matter of sawing and planing.

hand. If you have a budget problem, why not install a few storm sash this year and the remainder next year? If you do, install them first on the side of the house that faces prevailing winter winds.

Ready made wooden sash require little preparation before installation. But usually it will be necessary to plane the sides (stiles) and top and bottom (rails) for a snug fit. Approximately equal amounts should be planed off of all four sides.

The first step is to mark off the upper and lower widths of the window opening on a stick of wood. Transfer the measurements to the storm sash, making pencil marks on the stiles. Using a straight-edge board as a guide, draw lines through the marks the entire length of each stile.

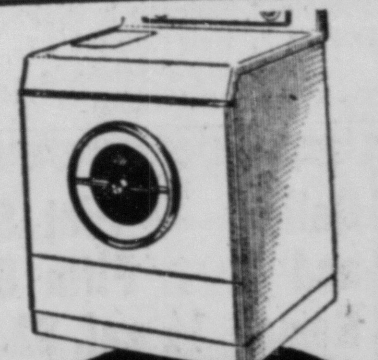

Plane the stiles down to the lines then place the sash in the window frame. Using the outside window sill as a guide, pencil a line on the bottom rail of the storm sash and indicate the slope of the sill on the side edges of the sash.

Before sawing or planing down to these lines, make certain an equal amount can be removed from the top rail. If not, the lines should be adjusted. When the bottom rail has been planed to fit, again insert the sash in the window frame and mark, saw and plane the top rail.

The final steps include installing hanger hardware and adding a strip to the outside sill. The strip serves as extra protection from wind and as a stop for the storm sash. Make it of ½x¾-inch material and attach it permanently to the sill with 4penny finishing nails.

There are various methods and different kinds of hardware for fastening storm sash in window frames—books and eyes, twist latches and fixtures made especially for the purpose. Consult your dealer on the hardware question.

Lowen

child "created" a job as deputy to Lee for Lowen. He predicted strong opposition to Lowen's confirmation as CAA administrator when the appointment comes before the Senate.

A spokesman for the Commerce Department, parent agency of the CAA which deals with civil aviation matters, said there would be no immediate comment.

Last week the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Assn. expressed "serious concern" at reports Lee was being pressured out. J. B. Hartman, the association president, declared the CAA had become "a political football."

Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.), chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, has proposed an investigation.

Lee himself told a newsmen, "I wish I understood all the motives behind this."

He said his first hint of trouble came with the appointment of Lowen, 40, a Denver Republican, last May. He said Lowen told others in the CAA that, "I'm working for Rothschild (Undersecretary of Commerce Louis S. Rothschild)," not for Lee.

Rothschild called him to his office last month, Lee related, and told him they "weren't getting along" and had "come to the parting of the ways." Lee added: "I couldn't have been more surprised."

Then last Wednesday, Lee said, Secretary Weeks demanded his resignation within two hours.

Councilmen Inspect Lisbon Sewage Plant

LISBON — The village's newly completed $200,000 sewage treatment plant on the Elkhorn Road met with the approval of councilmen when they inspected the plant Sunday afternoon. Councilman Charles Lederle said today.

Work on the plant, which was constructed by the Roberts & Schaefer Co. of Chicago, was begun last December. William McKenna of Lisbon was the project's resident engineer.

Inspecting the plant besides Lederle were Councilmen Donald Dawes, Ira Neville and Emmett Wolfe. McKenna conducted the tour. Lederle said councilmen indicated that an open house may be held for village residents to inspect the plant.

1,455 Receive Chest X-rays In E. Liverpool

LISBON—A total of 1,455 persons received free chest X-rays when the Columbiana County Public Health League's mobile X-ray cruiser visited East Liverpool Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the league reported today.

The X-rays, given for the detection of tuberculosis, are financed by the annual sale of Christmas seals now underway in the county. The goal is $32,000.

$300 Suit Settled

LISBON—Hugh Ramsey, Center Twp. justice of the peace, said today that, according to attorneys in the case, the suit in which Robert Watterson Jr. of the Watterson Engineering Co. of Salem was suing Harvey Souders of the Souders Engineering Co. of Lisbon has been settled out of court.

A trial was scheduled for Saturday in village hall before Ramsey but was cancelled, he said. Watterson asked for $300 claimed due for plans the Salem firm prepared. Souders said in his answer to the suit the plans were incorrect.

Suggested President Wait

Snyder suggested the President wait at least until mid-February before deciding whether he feels physically able to seek a second term.

Meantime, Eisenhower went ahead with his announced schedule.

Tuesday he will meet both Republican and Democratic congressional leaders for a review of defense and foreign policies before returning to his Gettysburg farm and office to continue his convalescence.

Eisenhower underwent a complete physical checkup at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital Saturday. There was nothing in the subsequent medical bulletin that ruled out the possibility of his running again.

But Snyder said that if he were the President and had to decide, he would wait another two months, until the middle of February at the earliest.

He said it is impossible to assess how much another four-year term would take out of the President in physical terms.

A formal medical bulletin asserted:

"The executive responsibilities have imposed a heavier tax upon the President than an ideal convalescent program would incorporate. Then, too, the weather (at Gettysburg) has not been too good."

"At the same time the bulletin said Eisenhower's participation in both office and farm activities has been carefully supervised "so that no harm has resulted."

TWO AUTOS COLLIDE

Cars operated by Duwayne G. McDevitt of RD 3, Salem, and Lawrence Johnson of Arch St., collided at the intersection of S. Broadway Ave. and Aetna St. at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, causing minor damage to the McDevitt auto, police reported today.
